APEX COVANTAGE'S BORYCZKA TO SPEAK AT WASHINGTON WOMEN'S INFORMATION NETWORK'S (WWIN) FEBRUARY LUNCHEON

HERNDON, VA – January 24, 2008 – Apex CoVantage, a leading knowledge process outsourcing (KPO) company, today announced that Executive Vice President and Co-Founder Margaret Boryczka will be the guest speaker at the Washington Women's Information Network's (WWIN) February 15th luncheon meeting.

Celebrating its 25th anniversary this year, WWIN covers all aspects of scholarly and professional communications from authors to readers and includes publishers, librarians, suppliers, consultants, lawyers and HR specialists.

“As co-founder of Apex CoVantage, it will be wonderful to hear Margaret's thoughts on current issues in the scholarly and professional communications industry. We are particularly interested in hearing her views regarding managing change in the organization, as well as a review of the new technologies Apex is offering its content customers,” said Barbara Meyers Ford, co-founder and coordinator of WWIN.

As the EVP and COO of Apex CoVantage, Ms. Boryczka is responsible for managing all the company's operations, including its production facilities in India in which over 2,500 staff are employed. An expert in computer modeling, process optimization, data management and quality control, Ms. Boryczka has extensive experience working with governments, corporations and non-profit entities.
