FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Apex CoVantage Attains SPATIALinfo's Platinum Certified Status

Englewood, Colo., Dec. 20, 2010—SPATIALinfo announces Apex CoVantage is the newest platinum certified engineering partner in its lineup. Cable and telecommunications engineering companies become certified as platinum, gold, or bronze partners by purchasing spatialNET licenses and completing training and testing in their selected specialties.

Apex CoVantage, a full-range telecommunications engineering provider, has purchased 20 spatialNET licenses and completed training in fiber, RF and route to become platinum certified.

"We are extremely pleased to become a certified business partner with SPATIALinfo and look forward to assisting with their software implementations within the communications and utility markets," said Apex Engineering Solutions President, Carl Martin.

SPATIALinfo looks to its certified partners to provide its customers with the highest quality custom network infrastructure engineering and data conversion services.

"Apex CoVantage is a valuable member of our certified partner network. Their attention to integrity, quality and workflow with data conversion projects is exceptional," said SPATIALinfo CEO, Greg Foster.

Details about SPATIALinfo's partner certification program and all of SPATIALinfo's certified partners, including Apex CoVantage, are listed at www.spatialinfo.com.
